

IPDA welcomes all Early Career Researchers to: Researchers' Retreat

Wednesday 12th April 2023

If you're an MA, EdD, PhD, early career researcher, or writer, you are warmly invited to join the online IPDA Researchers' Retreat. Come for the whole day, or part of the day, to suit you, your writing preferences, and your plans!

#IPDAResearchersRetreat

Whether you're working on writing, reading, data analysis or a presentation, the IPDA Researchers' Retreat will allow you the space to work, knowing there are like-minded people on the same Zoom call. For some parts of the breaks, there'll be the chance to come back together for a short while to check in (and check on!) one another. But, during the sessions throughout the day, switch off social media and your phone to really concentrate with no distractions!

The IPDA Researchers' Retreat is not only a great way to focus but an opportunity to network, talk about your research and make new connections. We look forward to you joining in! To register please visit the following link:
